

Answer Key: Adult English A1

Use each printed data card. Sentence grammar and fact agreement are separate checks. Fact codes refer to printed input, not outside knowledge. This pair is focused practice, not an A1 examination.

ITA1-01-01

She is from Spain. Codes: C1-A, C1-B.

The printed word she determines the be form. The Spain fact determines the message; use both C1-A and C1-B.

Keep the original subject word and match its be form.

State the requested printed fact with the correct polarity.

Identify both C1-A and C1-B; either code order is accepted.

Capitalisation and final punctuation may vary. Correct contractions are accepted; factual meaning must stay unchanged.

ITA1-01-02

He is not a teacher. Codes: C2-A, C2-B.

The printed word he determines the be form. The teacher fact determines the message; use both C2-A and C2-B.

Keep the original subject word and match its be form.

State the requested printed fact with the correct polarity.

Identify both C2-A and C2-B; either code order is accepted.

Capitalisation and final punctuation may vary. Correct contractions are accepted; factual meaning must stay unchanged.

Answer Key: Adult English A1

ITA1-01-03

They are not from Spain. Codes: C3-A, C3-B.

The printed word they determines the be form. The Spain fact determines the message; use both C3-A and C3-B.

Keep the original subject word and match its be form.

State the requested printed fact with the correct polarity.

Identify both C3-A and C3-B; either code order is accepted.

Capitalisation and final punctuation may vary. Correct contractions are accepted; factual meaning must stay unchanged.

ITA1-01-04

I am not a driver. Codes: C4-A, C4-B.

The printed word I determines the be form. The driver fact determines the message; use both C4-A and C4-B.

Keep the original subject word and match its be form.

State the requested printed fact with the correct polarity.

Identify both C4-A and C4-B; either code order is accepted.

Capitalisation and final punctuation may vary. Correct contractions are accepted; factual meaning must stay unchanged.

Answer Key: Adult English A1

ITA1-01-05

We are in Rome. Codes: C5-A, C5-B.

The printed word we determines the be form. The Rome fact determines the message; use both C5-A and C5-B.

Keep the original subject word and match its be form.

State the requested printed fact with the correct polarity.

Identify both C5-A and C5-B; either code order is accepted.

Capitalisation and final punctuation may vary. Correct contractions are accepted; factual meaning must stay unchanged.

ITA1-01-06

You are a driver. Codes: C6-A, C6-B.

The printed word you determines the be form. The driver fact determines the message; use both C6-A and C6-B.

Keep the original subject word and match its be form.

State the requested printed fact with the correct polarity.

Identify both C6-A and C6-B; either code order is accepted.

Capitalisation and final punctuation may vary. Correct contractions are accepted; factual meaning must stay unchanged.

Answer Key: Adult English A1

ITA1-01-07

They are from Germany. Codes: T-A, T-B. Age: ?.

They requires are; Germany is the requested country. No age is provided.

Keep They; use are and Germany.

Give both T-A and T-B.

Mark the age ?; do not invent a number.

Either code order; ordinary punctuation/capitalisation variants.

ITA1-02-01

Does Alex work at nine? Yes, he does. Codes: A-A, A-B.

Select the question form for the subject and verb; check the requested fact against the data card.

Question: Does Alex work at nine?

Data-supported short answer: Yes, he does.

Both fact codes: A-A, A-B; either order.

Correct contractions, capitalisation and punctuation variants accepted.

Keep the named person, requested action/time and truth value. For task 5, Not given is accepted for ?; Yes/No are not.

Answer Key: Adult English A1

ITA1-02-02

Does Rosa drink coffee? Yes, she does. Codes: R-A, R-B.

Select the question form for the subject and verb; check the requested fact against the data card.

Question: Does Rosa drink coffee?

Data-supported short answer: Yes, she does.

Both fact codes: R-A, R-B; either order.

Correct contractions, capitalisation and punctuation variants accepted. Keep the named person, requested action/time and truth value. For task 5, Not given is accepted for ?; Yes/No are not.

ITA1-02-03

Is Alex a doctor? Yes, he is. Codes: J-A, J-B.

Select the question form for the subject and verb; check the requested fact against the data card.

Question: Is Alex a doctor?

Data-supported short answer: Yes, he is.

Both fact codes: J-A, J-B; either order.

Correct contractions, capitalisation and punctuation variants accepted. Keep the named person, requested action/time and truth value. For task 5, Not given is accepted for ?; Yes/No are not.

Answer Key: Adult English A1

ITA1-02-04

Do Tao and Noor drink coffee? No, they do not. Codes: N-A, N-B.

Select the question form for the subject and verb; check the requested fact against the data card.

Question: Do Tao and Noor drink coffee?

Data-supported short answer: No, they do not.

Both fact codes: N-A, N-B; either order.

Correct contractions, capitalisation and punctuation variants accepted. Keep the named person, requested action/time and truth value. For task 5, Not given is accepted for ?; Yes/No are not.

ITA1-02-05

Does Rosa work on Saturday? ? Codes: S-A, S-B.

The data leaves Saturday unknown; ? must not become a yes/no answer.

Question: Does Rosa work on Saturday?

Data-supported short answer: ?

Both fact codes: S-A, S-B; either order.

Correct contractions, capitalisation and punctuation variants accepted. Keep the named person, requested action/time and truth value. For task 5, Not given is accepted for ?; Yes/No are not.

Answer Key: Adult English A1

ITA1-02-06

Does Lina cook dinner at seven? Yes, she does. Codes: L-A, L-B.

Select the question form for the subject and verb; check the requested fact against the data card.

Question: Does Lina cook dinner at seven?

Data-supported short answer: Yes, she does.

Both fact codes: L-A, L-B; either order.

Correct contractions, capitalisation and punctuation variants accepted.

Keep the named person, requested action/time and truth value. For task 5, Not given is accepted for ?; Yes/No are not.