Please send the image by 09:00 UTC. C1-A/C1-B: the shared deadline is not an unspecified local time.

Read the complete exchange; context or its absence determines the clarification. Preserve the named action, reader and status.

Preserve image and by-deadline, not at-time.

Use UTC without guessing a conversion or local zone.

Explain the mismatch using C1-A/C1-B.

Faithful polite wording and normal numeral/date conventions accepted.

A clarification question may give both possible dates. No national stereotype, guessed timezone or invented completion.

Please use one point five metres of fabric. C2-A/C2-B: the author explicitly clarifies the amount.

Read the complete exchange; context or its absence determines the clarification. Preserve the named action, reader and status.

Use one point five/1.5 metres, not 15.

Keep fabric and a clear request to the maker.

Ground the interpretation in C2-B; no national convention claim.

Faithful polite wording and normal numeral/date conventions accepted.

A clarification question may give both possible dates. No national stereotype, guessed timezone or invented completion.

PTEN12E-01-03

Could you write out the meeting date, including the month? C3-A: both readings remain possible; the notice does not resolve them.

Read the complete exchange; context or its absence determines the clarification. Preserve the named action, reader and status.

Ask the organiser to identify the calendar date unambiguously.

Do not choose November 12 or December 11 without evidence.

Cite C3-A and the missing date-format clarification.

Faithful polite wording and normal numeral/date conventions accepted.

A clarification question may give both possible dates. No national stereotype, guessed timezone or invented completion.

Please send the diagram to the interpreters. C4-A/C4-B: the clarification identifies both, and sending is still requested.

Read the complete exchange; context or its absence determines the clarification. Preserve the named action, reader and status.

Choose diagram and interpreters from the clarification.

Preserve a request, not a completed transmission.

Use both codes to explain referents and action status.

Faithful polite wording and normal numeral/date conventions accepted.

A clarification question may give both possible dates. No national stereotype, guessed timezone or invented completion.

PTEN12E-01-05

The workshop remains conditional on captions being ready. C5-A/C5-B: room availability does not establish the caption condition.

Read the complete exchange; context or its absence determines the clarification. Preserve the named action, reader and status.

Keep caption readiness as the unmet confirmation.

Do not claim captions are absent, workshop cancelled or event confirmed.

Distinguish available room from unchecked captions using both codes.

Faithful polite wording and normal numeral/date conventions accepted.

A clarification question may give both possible dates. No national stereotype, guessed timezone or invented completion.

I will add two worked examples and keep the rest. C6-A/C6-B: the feedback requests a limited change, not rejection of the whole plan.

Read the complete exchange; context or its absence determines the clarification. Preserve the named action, reader and status.

Respect the specified two-example change and unchanged remainder.

Use a constructive reply without inventing overall approval/completion.

Explain the limited feedback using both codes.

Faithful polite wording and normal numeral/date conventions accepted.

A clarification question may give both possible dates. No national stereotype, guessed timezone or invented completion.

PTEN12E-01-07

Please paste the cost figures into your message; I cannot open the annex. I need them for comparison before 17:00 UTC tomorrow. T-A/T-B: the copy is still needed.

Request an accessible copy without inventing figures, claiming receipt or changing the shared deadline.

Ask for cost figures in the message due to inaccessible attachments.

Preserve comparison before 17:00 UTC tomorrow, not a completed comparison.

Identify T-A/T-B and the missing copy.

Equivalent polite reply within 38 words including codes/check. No requirement to invent the cost figures or convert the timezone.

Twenty-six of forty-eight respondents preferred paper as the primary format, not exclusively. D1: non-respondents' views are unknown.

Read the named complete sources and task together; preserve group, purpose, access limits and current status.

Use 26 of 48 respondents, not the 420 students as the observed preference group.

Preserve primary preference, not paper-only demand.

Explain missing wider views using D1.

Semantically faithful grammatical reformulations accepted, not exact sample wording. Numerals/spelled numbers and accurate source-code ranges accepted. No invented census, guaranteed representativeness or council decision.

Staff and a room remain unconfirmed, and the council has not approved a format decision. D2: both the event and decision remain pending.

Read the named complete sources and task together; preserve group, purpose, access limits and current status.

Retain both unconfirmed event resources.

Separate advisory replies from council approval.

Cite D2 with the relevant status limit.

Both seek easier participation: Ava proposes paper replies; Idris proposes invitations in home languages. P1/P2: channel access and language access are different, compatible concerns.

Read the named complete sources and task together; preserve group, purpose, access limits and current status.

Identify their shared participation aim.

Distinguish paper alongside the app from home-language invitations.

Keep proposals compatible; identify P1/P2.

PTEN12E-02-04

Arrange paper replies alongside the app, subject to securing staff and a room. P1/D2: this may reach students unable to log in; the resources are unconfirmed.

Read the named complete sources and task together; preserve group, purpose, access limits and current status.

Recommend paper alongside the app, rather than replacing every channel.

Tie the reason to reported app access barriers without claiming prevalence.

Keep at least one genuinely unmet resource and relevant codes.

Another channel may help, but voluntary replies still need not represent everyone. P1/P2: easier access does not establish complete participation or representativeness.

Read the named complete sources and task together; preserve group, purpose, access limits and current status.

Recognise possible benefit without accepting automatic representativeness.

Retain voluntary incomplete participation uncertainty.

Cite P1/P2 and link the limit to the objection.

PTEN12E-02-06

Staff are now confirmed, but the event still needs a room; no format decision is approved. D2/U: one resource condition is met, not both.

Read the named complete sources and task together; preserve group, purpose, access limits and current status.

Use the newly confirmed staff.

Keep the room pending and the event unconfirmed.

Separate resource progress from format approval; cite D2/U.
