

Packing a picnic bag

Review guide · English

Open response: the example is not a unique answer. Check meaning against the criteria; entering text is not enough.

One possible response

Primero prepara dos bocadillos y dos botellas de agua, uno y una para cada persona. Pon los bocadillos en una caja. Añade dos manzanas y coloca las botellas al lado de la caja. Antes de salir, comprueba el agua y la comida.

Evidence in the example

c1: para cada persona — Prepare food and water for two people.

Identify the referent: the reader needs to know who or what you mean.

c2: dos bocadillos y dos botellas de agua — Give each person one bottle and one sandwich.

Keep the fact that lets the reader act without guessing.

c3: Pon los bocadillos en una caja. Añade dos manzanas — Choose apples or bananas and protect the sandwiches in a box.

Connect your decision to the need in this situation.

c4: comprueba el agua y la comida. — Add a useful final check before departure.

End with useful information for the next step.

Valid alternatives

Bocadillo or sándwich is valid. Either fruit is accepted, with a coherent quantity. Singular imperatives, infinitives or puedes instructions are valid; regional vocabulary is not an error.

Feedback to improve

If you only give a total, add a clear per-person distribution and box instruction: the reader needs to pack without crushing the sandwiches.

Per criterion: NE = no evidence; 0 = not yet met; 1 = partial success or content prompts; 2 = met without content prompts. Record access support without penalising it. No average, official grade or CEFR certification.

Also review: purpose and facts; readable order; language understandable at this level; a justified draft change. Errors that do not block the message may receive support without invalidating the whole text.

Keep your draft. Mark an improvement and explain why it helps the reader; if it already meets the criteria, identify and justify a specific check.

Blank record: criterion / NE–0–1–2 / observed phrase / support used / next step. Keep draft and revision; do not collect personal data.
