

No restaurante: 24 palavras e como pedir

Ficha 3 de 3 · Ficha 3 · qué se dice en cada situación y qué suena demasiado seco · well done, still o sparkling, I'm full · los errores caros: the account, conservants, ready for order y bland por soft

LA REGLA

Para pedir há duas fórmulas e ambas servem: I'd like... (educada, serve sempre) e I'll have... (mais rápida, no momento de pedir). A seguir vem o prato, sem to: I'd like the soup, please. Pede-se com order ou ask FOR, e I want sozinho não está errado, mas soa a ordem.

¡Ojo! — el fallo típico. Preservative é «conservante», não «preservativo». Bland é «insípido», e a armadilha aqui é «brando», que em inglês é mild. E a conta pede-se com the bill, nunca com «the account».

1 Liga cada situação ao que dirias.

Can I book a table? · I'll have the steak. · I'm allergic to nuts. · The bill, please. · The menu, please.

You want to see what they have today
You have finished and you want to pay
You cannot eat nuts
You want a table for Friday night
The waiter is waiting for your order

2 Soa educado ou demasiado seco? Distribui.

Bring the bill now. · Could we have the bill, please? · Give me the soup. · I want water. · I'd like the soup, please. · I'll have the fish, thanks.
